New Aerial Photos Released of the Trio of Failed Nuclear Projects in South Carolina & Georgia: Plutonium Fuel/MOX (Proposed to be Converted into a Plutonium Bomb Plant) and the Vogtle & V.C. Summer Nuclear Reactor Construction Sites - Photos by High Flyer can be Used by Following "Terms"

Columbia, SC (aka new Nuclear Ground Zero) -- Dramatic aerial photos of the massive nuclear construction projects in South Carolina and Georgia have been released by the public interest organization Savannah River Site Watch. The photos of the three failed projects, two of which have been formally terminated, were taken by a local anonymous pilot who goes by the nom de avion High Flyer.

The unique photos, not available from other sources, were legally taken on November 20, 2020 and can be used by following the "terms of use" posted by High Flyer at the Google drives linked here:

1. Photos of terminated plutonium fuel (MOX) plant at the DOE's Savannah River Site in South Carolina, which DOE proposes to turn into a Plutonium Bomb Plant, and other views of SRS:

2. Photos of Plant Vogtle, where two nuclear reactors are under construction in Georgia by Southern Company /Georgia Power - the failed project, across the river from SRS, drags on despite massive cost overruns and schedule delays:

3. Photos of the V.C. Summer site, where construction of two Westinghouse AP1000 reactors in South Carolina was terminated in 2017; so far two former SCANA officials have admitted fraud with the project and more indictments are expected; $11+ billion wasted so far on the project:
